respect over many years, from clients and other professionals alike.

Providing a comprehensive range of services to both individual and commercial clients involved in civil proceedings (whether court, tribunal or arbitration), our team includes Solicitor-Advocates with Higher Court Rights of Audience

Often working to tight deadlines our advice is always carefully considered and pragmatic, taking into account the merits and practicalities of each individual case and working with clients with a view to meeting their requirements and successfully resolving the dispute.

If you are involved in a dispute with someone and court, tribunal or arbitration action is contemplated, or even if the dispute has not reached that stage but you are unable to reach a settlement, you should contact us immediately for advice.

Whatever the type of dispute, we will give you clear advice about cost and assess the chances of your success at the outset, advising whether it is best resolved by negotiation, litigation or alternative dispute resolution. Guiding you smoothly through the legal and tactical issues of your case with a view to achieving a successful result or award, we will also act for you regarding enforcement of the outcome.
